

Sustainable Dinner at Galjoen Restaurant, Cape Town

Galjoen is a South African sustainably-sourced seafood restaurant.

At GALJOEN, working with head chef Isca Stoltz, they serve up some of Cape Town's most inventive seafood, tapping into local boats and aquaculture projects to ensure a serious serving of sustainability too.

'At GALJOEN, we're passionate about showcasing the incredible diversity of South African seafood and use the opportunity to also highlight the critical importance of responsible dining practices,' explains Horn.

In a nutshell that means if it's not from South African shores, and from ethical sources, you simply won't find it on the menu at GALJOEN.
